

SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTURAL ILLUSTRATION

BRINGING ARCHITECTURE TO LIFE

Professional. Dynamic. World-class.

The SAI brings together the world's leading architectural artists, illustrators, model makers and photographers - dynamic, progressive, commercially aware professionals who bring architecture to life.

Members of the SAI work in all disciplines and for architects and developers in all industry sectors. We use the full spectrum of techniques from time-honoured traditional methods, including watercolour and pencil to the latest cutting-edge CGI technology, photo-real imagery and animation.

The world's oldest and most prestigious architectural illustrators' organisation, the SAI has attracted patrons including Sir John Betjeman, Sir Hugh Casson and Gordon Cullen and membership is recognised as a professional qualification worldwide.

Promoting Excellence. Raising Standards.

The SAI offers a unique support network for architectural illustrators and allied professions. We offer member services, advice, guidance, exhibitions and education. We go further to raise and maintain standards. We work hard to ensure our members are both protected and promoted.

Committed to professional excellence, devoted to the needs of all architectural illustrators and dedicated to seeking out new, dynamic talent, we encourage all potential members to submit a series of works for consideration.
